Rules:

Foursome:

The team plays one ball and players alternate after every shot until the ball lies in the hole. Partners take turns on tees, one starts all even-numbered holes, the other odd-numbered holes. The team that plays lower score on hole wins the point. In case of the same result of both teams the hole is halved and nobody gets point.

Fourball:

Side is represented by two players, each playing their own ball. As a result on the hole is calculated a better score of one of the player. It's not necessary that both players finish the hole.
